Herge Placed In County Jail At Noon Today

Waives Hearing On Murder Charge Before Justice Of Peace At Ellwood City

KEPT IN BEAVER JAIL OVER WEEKEND

Irvin C. Herge, 41, of Ellwood City, confessed slayer of Jean Fatur, of Wurtemburg Heights, was lodged in the Lawrence County jail at noon today on a charge of murder. Prior to that he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. E. Van Gorder of Ellwood City and waived a hearing. The charge was sworn to by Chief Clark W. Ricer of the Ellwood City police force.

Early today District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson and County Detective Charles Ross went to Ellwood City to await the arrival of Herge from Beaver County. Herge, according to the officials, had agreed to show the officers where he had killed the girl and the route he took in leaving Ellwood City with the body of the girl stuffed in the trunk of the car.

Changed Mind
In the office of Burgess Clyde B. Hook, Ellwood City, where he was arraigned, Herge changed his mind about co-operating with the officers and said he would refuse to do anything until he had a lawyer. He was told that he would be taken to the Lawrence County jail in New Castle where his lawyer could see him.

Herge waived his preliminary hearing but in order to conform to all legal rules District Attorney Donaldson put Corporal C. C. Snipas, in charge of the Beaver County barracks, on the stand.

Corporal Snipas said Herge had admitted to him that he had killed Miss Fatur on the Ewing Park bridge in Ellwood City and then put her body in the trunk of his car. He drove back to his home and later came to New Castle and spent three days in South New Castle Boro with a lady friend.

Friendly With Women

From the investigation of the case, officers say Herge was a ladies man. Married twice, he still carried on affairs with other women, they say and the affair with Miss Fatur led to her killing. Toledo officers (Continued on Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Rather an unusual sight for these days was reported to Pa New recently. A pedestrian was noted carrying a raised umbrella during a snowstorm.

Sunday was an excellent day for skating, Pa New is told. Pond around the city were alive with skaters during the day.

Along some of the highways of the county are to be seen some rather pretentious efforts at the beginning of snow drifts.

While everyone will agree the week-end was a real snappy one, it did not quite compare with the corresponding dates a year ago, when the temperatures stood at one below and eight below zero respectively.

Motorists are reminded of two deadlines that must be met this week, Thursday night at midnight to be exact. All cars must be inspected by that time and every operator must carry with him a new drivers license.

Pa New is wondering why the postal authorities don't install automatic stamp dispensing machines in the lobby of the post office whenever the stamp windows are closed.

Sugar Ration Increase Possible This Spring

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Your sugar ration may be increased this spring.

An OPA spokesman said today that there is a good possibility that the individual sugar ration will be boosted before May 1 if the present Caribbean sugar crop turns out favorably.

The spokesman stressed, however, that any increase in the present ration of five pounds per person each four months depends on the outcome of the Caribbean production.

He said that if conditions permit

OPA to increase the sugar allowance, there is a "good chance" that the extra supply would be included in the next sugar stamp which becomes valid May 1.

The spokesman warned consumers not to expect an end to the rationing of sugar until sometime in 1947. Sugar is the lone commodity still being rationed in this country.

Stocks Depleted

It was pointed out that the country's hold-over stocks of sugar were depleted during the war and that (Continued on Page Two)

Pushing Hearings On Provisions Of Fact-Finding Bill

President Of General Electric Company Is Called As Witness By Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(INS)—The senate labor committee entered the CIO electrical workers strike today as it pushed its hearings on President Truman's fact-finding bill.

Called as a witness was Charles Edward Wilson, president of General Electric Corp., one of the companies hit by the strike of 200,000 electrical workers.

At the same time, the house rules committee met to decide whether to throw open the house labor committee's wage-and-price version of the president's bill for amendment other than specifically on fact-finding.

House leaders said the bill might reach the floor by Thursday.

Want Amendments

Pro-labor members sought a rule to restrict amendments. Labor critics want the bill left wide open for attaching such proposals as the May-Arends bill, which would make unions liable for damages resulting from strikes in violation of contracts.

As the senate labor committee continued hearings it appeared certain that the president's fact-finding (Continued on Page Two)

SMALL DETROIT GIRL ATTACKED

Seven-Year-Old Child Is Criminally Attacked And Stabbed, Police Report

DETROIT, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Seven-year-old Rosalie Ida Giganti who was criminally attacked and stabbed in the throat, is being kept alive today by the desperate efforts of physicians.

The child was assaulted yesterday afternoon.

A tube has been inserted in the child's lacerated throat so she may breathe. Two blood transfusions were given Rosalie during the night to offset the loss of blood the child suffered.

Physicians fear, however, that if Rosalie lives, she may never speak again louder than a whisper. They believe the wide-bladed knife her attacker plunged into her neck may have permanently injured Rosalie's vocal cords.

Frank Lobalzo, the 29-year-old grocer to whom Rosalie had been sent by her parents for milk and bread, was taken in custody by police two hours after she was found hanging over an alley gate at the rear of Lobalzo's store.

No charge was placed against him but Assistant Prosecutor Martin Paulino said Rosalie identified him as her attacker.

War Vet Kills His Wife And Daughter, Commits Suicide

Another Daughter, Aged 4, Escapes Death By Fleeing To Basement Of Home

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Police were unable to find any motive today for the tragedy in which, they said, a newly discharged war veteran shot and killed his wife and two-year-old daughter before ending his own life with the same weapon, a 12-gauge shotgun.

The dead in the incident which took place in suburban Hyattsville, Md., were the veteran, John Fitzgerald, 34, his wife, Mary, 24, and their daughter, Mary Ann, two.

The sole surviving member of the family is another daughter, Carol, 4, who was rushed to the cellar of the house by Mrs. George Chapman, Mrs. Fitzgerald's mother, when the shooting started.

Steel Strike Now Entering Second Week

No Sign Of Break Is Reported In Tieup Of Nation's Steel Plants

WAGE PATTERN IS DEVELOPING

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—The nation-wide strike of 700,000 steel workers moved into its second week today with no sign of a break in sight.

This black picture prevailed in the face of the depressing fact that last week's steel strike cost the nation an estimated loss to manufacturers and workers of more than $100,000,000. While skies cleared somewhat in the automobile industry, with Ford and Chrysler companies reaching an agreement in Detroit on the wage issue, the "Big Steel" situation remained tightly deadlocked.

Wage Pattern Developing

Although a national wage pattern was developing around pay increases close to 18 cents an hour, neither side in the steel dispute was budging a cent.

U. S. Steel corporation offers a 15 cents an hour increase. The CIO United Steel Workers insist on 18 cents. President Truman's suggested compromise figure. There the situation rests.

Philip Murray, leader of the steel strike, was in Washington today to appear before the Senate committee on education and labor tomorrow.

Before leaving Pittsburgh last night, he had nothing optimistic to say. He reiterated he had made the union's "move" acceptance of the Truman 18 cent proposal. It's now either industry's or the government's move, Murray indicated. Murray said he had no plans to see President Truman while in Washington.

Picture Better

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette in an editorial today said: "There is no doubt that the national strike picture looks better than it did three days ago."

"At the same time, it would be premature to jump to the conclusion that other companies or industries will fall promptly into line. They will be influenced by the (Continued on Page Two)

Roosevelt's Birth To Be Observed By Paralysis Battle

President Truman Urges Nation To Continue Polio Fight In Memory Of FDR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(INS)—The nation on Wednesday will observe the 64th anniversary of the birth of Franklin D. Roosevelt by carrying on a fight against infantile paralysis.

From President Truman in the White House to the youngest polio victims suffering at Warm Springs, Ga., where Franklin Roosevelt carried on his own valiant struggle against the dread disease—and where death came to him last April—the late president's crusade will be borne vividly in mind.

Mr. Truman is to observe the birthday of his friend and predecessor much as it was observed by Mr. Roosevelt himself during his 12-year tenure of the presidency—in a day of hard work and an evening broadcast urging support of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The President in opening the motion picture industry's annual infantile paralysis drive pointed out that the campaign Mr. Roosevelt led so long "now has been bequeathed to the American public."

He said that for the first time in 13 years the drive was launched by the living presence of the man who inaugurated the fight—and who became its symbol. Mr. Truman added:

"The fight has not yet been won. It takes a crusade in which we all are virtually interested."

Voting Trend In Germany Continues

FRANKFURT, Jan. 28.—(INS)—The conservative Christian Democrats swept the provincial elections in the American zone of occupation in Southern Germany, amassing 1,204,308 votes in today's tabulation.

Balloting in Bavaria and Greater Hesse Sunday gave the Christian Democrats 3,077 council seats. It was the second successive Sunday on which voting was conducted and reflected continuance of last week's trend.

Administration Is Concentrating On Steel Strike

New Moves Are Expected During Week In Effort At Solution

PLANT SEIZURES NOT CONTEMPLATED

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the United States Steel Corporation, left New York today for Washington.

Company officials declined to comment on persistent reports that Fairless would confer with government officials on the steel strike.

By PHILLIPS J. PECK

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Administration officials concentrated full attention today on the eight-day strike of 700,000 steel workers. Another government move in the deadlock was anticipated late in the week.

With the meat shut-down ended, the railroad dispute headed for arbitration, and the auto wage stalemate broken, federal labor experts turned to the steel dispute which threatens to nullify other settlements.

First Development Expected

First development is expected to be increased agitation in congress on repeal of excess profits tax rebates to industry which the CIO charged provides steel with millions of dollars of "strike breaking benefits."

President Truman has not yet placed the administration behind such a step, but was reliably reported (Continued on Page Two)

Report Eggers Confesses To Slaying Wife

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Small bone fragments were to be subjected to chemical and microscopic tests today in a search by authorities for tangible evidence to support Arthur Eggers' confession that he burned his wife's head and hands after he had killed her.

The bone fragments were found yesterday in the backyard of the Eggers Temple City home and ashes that apparently had been taken from the incinerator. One of the bones bore what appeared to be the marks of a saw.

Breaks After Week

Eggers, a meek clerk in the sheriff's Temple City sub-station, broke after a week of grilling Saturday night and confessed that he killed his wife Dorothy, as the climax to a quarrel in which he accused her of being unfaithful to him.

Her body, with the head and hands cut off, was found Jan. 2 in Waterman Canyon.

At first Eggers said he threw the missing head and hands into the canyon, too. Then he changed his story, saying he had reduced them to ashes in the incinerator at his home, after deputy sheriffs had made a futile search of the Waterman Canyon roadside.

Asked why he hadn't said in the first place that he burned the missing members, Eggers said the thought of making such an admission humiliated him. He commented:

"It's almost too horrifying to tell."

WOMAN DIES AT AGE OF 107 YEARS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 28.—(INS)—Mrs. Adeline Hill, 107, believed to be Wisconsin's oldest resident, died Sunday at the home of her son-in-law, Robert T. Lawton, of Port Atkinson, Wis.

Born at Plattburgh, N. Y., November 15, 1838, Mrs. Hill journeyed to Wisconsin with her parents in a covered wagon at the age of six. She was the sixth of 15 children.

John Hill, her husband, died 63 years ago. Two sons, William, 83, and Frank, 78, survive out of Mrs. Hill's family of six.

WELLES MAY BE NAMED

LONDON, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Latin American circles in the U. N. assembly discussed the name of Sumner Welles, once U. S. acting secretary of state today as a possible candidate to break the deadlock over the secretary generalship of the U. N.

It was understood that Argentina, Mexico and Venezuela strongly favored Welles' appointment to that post.

Twenty-Three Dead In Fires

Five Missing And More Than Score Injured In Series Of Weekend Fires

(International News Service)
Fires in five large cities and a number of smaller communities left a week-end toll of 23 persons known dead today, five missing and more than a score suffering injuries.

The damage was estimated in excess of one million dollars. Seven of the dead were children.

Temperatures of zero or below in the middle west added to the suffering of a large number of persons burned out of their homes and to that of the injured.

Some of the fires were an indirect result of the brief cold wave, their cause being traced to overheated or defective heating plants.

The largest loss of life—10—occurred in an apartment house fire in Kansas City, Mo. Five of the dead were children. At least three persons were injured.

Four persons perished and five were reported missing in a fire that raged the Alpine hotel in St. Louis early yesterday. Fifteen persons were injured in the blaze, the cause of which was not determined.

Fires in Chicago caused the death of four women, severely injured one and put eight firemen in hospitals. Three men burned to death near Herrin, Ill., in an automobile wreck.

A 14-year-old boy was burned fatally and a 15-year-old companion suffered severe burns when they destroyed a lakeshore cottage at Port Atkinson, Wis.

General Motors Facing Charges Made By Unions

Violations Of National Labor Relations Act Are Charged By United Auto Workers

DETROIT, Jan. 28.—(INS)—General Motors Corporation, only one of the automotive industry's "big three" without a wage settlement with its workers, was called upon today to answer union charges of alleged violations of the national labor relations act.

The hearing will be conducted in Detroit.

Walter P. Reuther, vice president of the United Automobile Workers CIO, representing 175,000 striking GM employees, was notified last night to appear before the NLRB as a witness against the corporation.

The UAW charged the corporation, in alleged violation of the national labor relations act, with:

Refusing to discuss its ability to pay; unreasonably delaying its meeting with the union; distribution of letters attacking union proposals; publishing newspaper advertisements with untrue statements; withdrawing of its first offer, a ten per cent wage increase, and rejection of arbitration.

The union's fight with GM for higher wages took on added urgency today. Tool and die workers were instructed to "overlook" General Motors orders.

Reuther, leader of the UAW-CIO fight against GM, said the union would not accept wage boosts similar to those granted by Chrysler and Ford. Chrysler granted its employees 18 cents an hour wage hike; Ford agreed to an 18-cent hourly boost.

U. N. O. Facing Solidarity Test

Controversial Issues To Be Tackled And Will Show U. N. O. Strength

BULLETIN
LONDON, Jan. 28.—(INS)—The United Nations Security Council began an historic meeting today which is expected to test solidarity in dealing with the controversial questions of British and Russian spheres of influence in the near and far east.

The meeting got under way at 3:10 p. m. (10:10 a. m. EST) with attention fixed on the issues of British action in Greece and Indonesia and Russian influence in Iran.

Before going into the session, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Chief Russian Delegate Andrei Vishinski—who have made no secret of their differences up to now—shook hands for the benefit of photographers. They had met privately before the council meeting.

On Friday the two men had studiously avoided each other.

OHIO ELECTRIC STRIKE DELAYED

Walkout Scheduled For Tuesday Night Is Held In Abeyance For Time Being

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(INS)—An electric strike that would have darkened one-third of Ohio was held in abeyance today pending negotiations that will open in Washington tomorrow.

Joe Fisher, president of the CIO Utility Workers, agreed not to call the strike, originally scheduled for Tuesday midnight, during the conference with Labor Department officials.

Representatives of the union and the Ohio Edison Co., the Ohio Power and Light Co. and the Dayton Power and Light Co. will attend the sessions at the invitation of Secretary of Labor Schweikendiek. The union agreed to postpone strike action because of the invitation.

The strike would have plunged most of southern Ohio and parts of West Virginia into darkness. 8,000 power workers demanding a pay increase.

Hope For Meeting In New York Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Hope for a meeting between leaders of the striking American Communications association and the Western Union officials grew today as picket lines formed before company headquarters for the 20th day.

Prospects of such a meeting were seen in an announcement that J. R. Mandelbaum, U. S. conciliation commissioner, will confer during the morning with Ralph H. Kimball, Western Union vice president.

The men will seek a solution to the walkout of 7,000 company employees that has virtually crippled wire service in the New York area.

Bus Skids On Sharp Curve Near Canonsburg On Sunday Evening

INJURED TAKEN TO CANONSBURG HOSPITAL

Eleven members of the drill and degree teams of New Castle Lodge, No. 51, Loyal Order of Moose, were injured, several of them seriously, and seven others were severely shaken up, but did not require hospitalization, in a bus accident, just outside of Canonsburg, Pa., shortly after 10 o'clock last night.

Of those in the hospital, none are in critical condition, Governor George Gettys of the local lodge learned this morning, but some are seriously hurt and will require long hospitalization.

According to the reports received from Pennsylvania Motor Police, who investigated the accident, the bus in which the men were riding, skidded off the highway on a sharp curve at the Morgantown crossroads of the Pittsburgh Railway Company's suburban line between Washington and Pittsburgh. The bus sheared off two electric line poles, crashed into a third one, and then overturned, trapping traffic for several hours, it was said.

Men In Hospital

Those who are in the hospital, according to information received here are: Gordon Moore, aged 35 years; Weiss, Nicholson, 33; William Marchetti, 32; Charles Klimes, 33; William Egan, 36; Herman Ward, 38; Charles D. Miller, 46; Michael Daino, 32; Arthur McClellan, 35; Frank Kelly, 32; and Ray Kennedy.

Others who were occupants of the bus, who escaped with lesser injuries which did not require hospitalization were: Elmer Yoho, David Wyckinson, James Pringle, Victor Brunschlag, Edward Van Dusen, Charles Roeder, and Ralph Campbell.

Put On Initiation

The men were returning from Canonsburg, where they had put on an initiation service for the Canonsburg Lodge, L. O. O. M. They left there at 10 o'clock, and had gone but a few miles when the accident occurred. They were taken to the (Continued on Page Two)

Earth Tremors In Luzerne County

Two Sharp Tremors In Northeastern Section Of County Are Reported

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 28.—(INS)—Two sharp earth tremors in northeastern Luzerne county prompted home owners today to fear additional building-shaking shocks.

The tremors were reported in Pittston, Avoca, West Pittston, Dunway, Wyoming, and Exeter. No damage was believed caused.

A similar tremor experienced about a week ago was believed to have been caused by blasting at the Avoca airport but officials said yesterday's shocks were the result of something else.

The first tremor was felt at 11:58 a. m. and the second just about six seconds later. Only a split interval separated the shocks.

Some local authorities attributed the tremors to a local earthquake while mine officials said a cave-in in underground workings might have caused them but indicated more powerful forces were involved due to the wide area covered.

Sixteen Nursing Students Capped

Ceremonies Conducted At New Castle Hospital School Of Nursing Sunday

REV. FR. SCHMIDT DELIVERS SERMON

Completing the first six months of training in the New Castle Hospital School of Nursing, 16 student nurses of the 1946 Class of Cadet Nurse Corps, received their caps and gowns in an impressive ceremony Sunday afternoon.

The procession started at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. Frances Colao at the piano. Following the National Anthem, Rev. Fr. Schmidt of the New Castle hospital gave the invocation.

In a "Monastery Garden" was sung by the student nurses' glee club. Sister M. Dolores, director of the New Castle hospital, conducted the capping at this time, and afterwards the student nurses repeated the Florence Nightingale pledge. They also sang the song "Thanks Be to God."

The principal address of the afternoon was given by Rev. Fr. Miles Schmidt, O. S. M., of St. Fidelis seminary, Herman, Pa. Father Schmidt spoke on the nursing profession.

"Green Cathedral" was another selection offered by the glee club. Rev. Fr. Dei gave the benediction, and the program closed with "Holy God We Praise Thy Name," an the recessional.

John Maher, chairman of the School of Nursing Council presided during the program, and afterwards an informal reception was held for friends and relatives of the students.

Dainty refreshments were served buffet style, the tables being beautifully arranged, and centered with a bouquet of red carnations and white baby mums, flanked on either side with white candles in crystal holders.

Mrs. John P. Proffitt and Mrs. John Barrett poured at the table. The student nurses who received the caps in the Class of 1946 are: Frances Irene Bailey, Altoona, Pa.; Mary Ann Baran, Farrell; Jean Marie Braymer, New Castle; Doris Mae Cooper, Portersville; Elizabeth L. Davis, Masury, O.; Rosemary Louise Factor, New Castle; Marielle Ann Flynn, New Castle; Sarah Leona Hardy, Wampum; Margaret Ann Hogan, New Castle; Emma Jeanne Mills, Wampum; Grace L. McCandless, New Castle; Bette Jean McNeil, New Castle; Florence Maxine Shanon, New Castle; Freda Elizabeth Spella, Youngstown; Rose Jane Vismar, Ridgeway, Pa.; and Stella Joan Worowitz, New Castle.

Tool steel is usually produced in relatively rough bar form, either by rolling or forging. The bars are then shipped to toolmakers who fashion them into finished tools.

The proposal would wind up as a mere appendage to any legislation the committee writes.

Even Sen. Ellender (D. La.), who sponsored the president's bill, now is more interested in expanding the government's mediation facilities. He would set up a five-man board outside of the labor department.

In Ellender's new proposal, fact-finding would come into the picture if mediation failed only if parties of the dispute would submit to a "request" by the president. If they were willing, the president would appoint an "emergency" board.

Would Pull Teeth

Ellender would scrap compulsion, the 30-day cooling off period and giving the board power to subpoena company records.

In proposing to pull the teeth out of the administration bill he sponsored, Ellender blamed utterances of administration spokesmen—including President Truman himself—for bringing on labor strife. He said:

"What caused these strikes is that administration spokesmen—Price Administrator Bowles, Reconversion Director Snyder and the president himself—made it known that they think wages can be raised without increasing prices. That doesn't add up."

The Louisiana senator added: "I don't see that there is anything Congress could do now to help cure existing strikes, especially since the weight of the administration has been placed on the side of the strikers."

"It would be a mistake for Congress to pass anti-strike legislation," he said.

rationing would not be lifted until these stocks have been built up. The official estimated that it would take until the summer of 1947 to build up the hold-over stocks. The spokesman added:

"We have been operating on a shoestring with sugar. Sugar is a long-term commodity and we must have sufficient hold-over stocks on hand."

As for increasing the individual ration, he declared:

"The favorable condition of the Caribbean crops would point toward an increase of individual consumer allowances."

Crop Soon Available

He explained that one-half of the Caribbean crop would be available this month and next month and the remainder of the crop would be marketed in March and April.

The spokesman said that the sharp reduction in the military's demand for sugar would not materially affect the individual consumer. He pointed out that most of the additional stocks made available by a decrease in military consumption would be allotted to:

1. Veterans entering businesses which require sugar.
2. Industrial users who produced heavily for a military and are now returning to production for the civilian market.

VICKS VAPORUB

ported ready to do so if the steel industry stands firm on rejection of its wage compromise and a showdown fight looms.

An administration source said the "carry-back" tax provision was "designed to guarantee industry against reconversion losses and not to make the government unwittingly pay for labor strife."

Another Step Predicted

The official predicted that before the week is out the government will take another "out in the open" step in the steel case.

Although refusing to discuss the nature of the action, he said seizure of the struck plants was not in the cards this week.

Government labor officials said the settlement between the CIO-UAW and Ford for an 18-cent hourly wage increase, and with Chrysler for 18½ cents, would have little direct effect on steel, but the psychological reaction would be good.

In addition, officials expect Ford and Chrysler to increase the pressure on the steel industry to make a settlement so that auto production and other manufacturing will not be halted for lack of steel.

Some Effect Seen

The new wage increases granted by two of the automotive "big three" also were believed to have rendered General Motors' position untenable since that company's wage rates previously were below Chrysler and Ford.

The other recently big labor development—Mine Chief John L. Lewis' reaffiliation with the AFL—also is expected to have some effect in the current situation.

The threat of a Lewis-AFL "raid" on CIO unions plus AFL publicity on its "peaceful" negotiation of wage boosts for two million non-union workers since V-J day has not gone unnoticed in CIO ranks. The union was timed carefully to occur when the CIO had its hands full with strikes in four major industries.

say he worked in Toledo, O., for a month but in that time had cultivated the acquaintance of a number of women.

The local case goes back to October 16, 1945. Officers say Herge admitted that Miss Fatur came to his home when his wife was away. He put her in the car and they started out for a doctor's office. On the way, according to Herge's confession, she became ill and he strangled her to keep her quiet.

He took the clothes off the girl, wrapped the body in a blanket and stuffed the body in the back of his car. For ten days he drove around and finally on the Damascus Bridge crossing the Maumee River near Napoleon, O., threw the body off the high bridge.

Found By Fishermen

Two days later fishermen found the body in the river about 3000 feet below the bridge and immediately alerted Sheriff Fred Bartels of Henry County, O.

Sheriff Bartels then began an investigation that will go down as a smart piece of police work. He had drawings made of the teeth showing fillings and sent copies of these pictures over the entire country.

One of them came to Chief Rice of Elwood City and he asked Dr. Carl Hayes to look at it. Dr. Hayes recognized the work and went to Toledo, O., where he was able to prove identification of Miss Fatur.

In the meantime Herge had gotten a job in Toledo as an electrician, a trade he has followed successfully for years. With Miss Fatur identified and with Herge's automobile license plate numbers to work on, Sheriff Bartels continued his investigation and finally caught up with Herge. At first he denied any knowledge of the crime but later confessed.

Lived In Beaver County

Miss Fatur, a pretty brunette of 20 years, had been home with her uncle John Ogier of Wurttemberg Heights, which is in Beaver County. When the case first broke, County Detective Michael Kane of Beaver County took it up. When it developed that the killing was done in Lawrence County it became a Lawrence County case and County Detective Charles Ross of this county took it up. With Mr. Donaldson he went to Toledo, in addition some Pennsylvania State Police. All of the officers named have done some excellent police work in ferreting out the killer.

This is not Herge's first brush with the law. In 1932 he served three years for armed assault in the western Penitentiary and later in Ohio was sentenced in 1937 to one to twenty years for forgery. On one occasion he was before the Lawrence County court for non-support and last September was examined by a mental health commission here which found him sane but emotionally unstable.

The case will now await action by the March grand jury. He first said he wanted no lawyer, but has since changed his mind. He is rather attractive looking man in a masculine fashion, fairly tall, well set up with dark hair and unusually bushy eyebrows.

Until March he will be in the Lawrence County jail as murder is not probable unless it can be proved the evidence is not sufficient to support a first degree verdict. In this case Herge has signed a confession of guilt.

ALTOONA INFANT BURNED TO DEATH
ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 28.—(INS)—A 13-month-old child, William Pearson, was dead today and his father John J. Pearson, 26, was in critical condition at a Altoona hospital following burns received Saturday night when a coal range in their home exploded.

The mother, Ella Mae, 19, suffered lesser burns when she attempted to rescue the child.

ported ready to do so if the steel industry stands firm on rejection of its wage compromise and a showdown fight looms.

An administration source said the "carry-back" tax provision was "designed to guarantee industry against reconversion losses and not to make the government unwittingly pay for labor strife."

Another Step Predicted

The official predicted that before the week is out the government will take another "out in the open" step in the steel case.

Although refusing to discuss the nature of the action, he said seizure of the struck plants was not in the cards this week.

Government labor officials said the settlement between the CIO-UAW and Ford for an 18-cent hourly wage increase, and with Chrysler for 18½ cents, would have little direct effect on steel, but the psychological reaction would be good.

In addition, officials expect Ford and Chrysler to increase the pressure on the steel industry to make a settlement so that auto production and other manufacturing will not be halted for lack of steel.

Some Effect Seen

The new wage increases granted by two of the automotive "big three" also were believed to have rendered General Motors' position untenable since that company's wage rates previously were below Chrysler and Ford.

The other recently big labor development—Mine Chief John L. Lewis' reaffiliation with the AFL—also is expected to have some effect in the current situation.

The threat of a Lewis-AFL "raid" on CIO unions plus AFL publicity on its "peaceful" negotiation of wage boosts for two million non-union workers since V-J day has not gone unnoticed in CIO ranks. The union was timed carefully to occur when the CIO had its hands full with strikes in four major industries.

NINETEEN MEMBERS OF MOOSE DEGREE TEAM IN SMASHUP

Canonsburg hospital and officers of the Canonsburg and Washington lodges are doing all they can for the comfort of the injured men.

While a full report has not been received yet by Governor Gettling, relative to the extent of the injuries of those in the hospital, he has been assured by the attending physicians that most are in a critical condition. Governor Gettling escaped being in the accident due to the fact that his car had just returned home from overseas service, prior to receiving his discharge. Otherwise he would have accompanied them.

Go To Canonsburg

Secretary Harold Shaffer and Frank H. Robinson, of the local lodge went to Canonsburg late this morning to make further inquiry into the details and condition of the men, and will report back to the officers of the lodge on their arrival there.

In the meantime, their wants will be cared for by the officers of the Washington and Canonsburg lodges. The victims of the crash taxed the capacity of the Canonsburg hospital, but all are being given the best care available, it is stated.

The trip to Canonsburg was made by bus as it was felt that this would be the safest method for all to travel, rather than in cars of the individual members, it was stated.

Infant Dies In Detroit

Word was received this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Theis of 105 South Ray street that the infant daughter, born to their son, George William, and Margaret C. Theis, of 10525 East Jefferson, Detroit, Mich., Sunday, died this morning at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Theis, the mother, flew from England on January 15 to join her husband, having been a war bride. He was discharged from service on October 22 after serving for four years with the Army and had gone to Detroit, Mich., to take up his old job with the Ford Motor company a short time ago.

Ford and Chrysler decision, yes, on the other hand, the problems of the motor and steel industries may be superficially similar, but they are not alike.

And the motor settlement will not mean actual production unless the steel mills resume operations soon.

Some steel sources expected vigorous government efforts to break the steel deadlock after the Office of Price Administration makes a report on higher steel prices to the White House next Friday.

Judging from the number of disappointed would-be stamp purchasers who left the post office Saturday afternoon, such machines would be mighty popular.

Pa. New was told of a new wrinkle being used by some local citizens to get a pound of that hard to get item, butter. One woman called up a local merchant stating that she was just recovering from the flu and that her doctor said that she would have to get a pound of butter to hasten her recovery.

A number of bus patrons receive quite a surprise every day on the East Side line. After passing the Butler avenue stop, most patrons who desire to disembark at Ray street, pull the cord immediately and are surprised when the bus stops at Brinton avenue, a recently re-established stop. Apocryphally they explain to the driver, "I didn't know the bus stopped there."

First concrete highway constructed in Lawrence county, the Wilmington road, is about ripe for re-surfacing, widening or rebuilding, Pa. New opines. The road was built soon after the first world war, and shows the wear. Reports have been made frequently that plans have been made for widening and rebuilding the roadway.

Reverberations of New Castle's one time boxing arena will be heard in a few days, when a local church which had purchased several hundred of the seats from the former "Jolly Bowl" begins removing the seats from its basement to make way for modern pews.

Miss Jean Arnold of Enon Valley, reported to Pa. New that she received a one dollar bill a few days ago in some change and on the margin of the bill, she found the name and address of a young lady from Miami, Fla. Evidently the Florida girl wanted to see how far the dollar would get in its many transactions over the country.

SMALL FIRE OCCURS AT POTTERY TODAY

Clothing Pick-Up Boosts Total For County Collection

Saturday's house-to-house clothing pick-up was a huge success, swelling the total of the Victory Clothing Collection for Lawrence county.

Austin Webb, chairman of the drive for the county, estimated today that between 15,000 and 20,000 articles were gathered in the city canvass by trucks of the headquarters, helping immeasurably in meeting the goal of 35,000 articles set by the county.

Clothing was piled almost to the ceiling of the headquarters this morning and an accurate check has not been made of the total yet, but officials are very pleased about the splendid cooperation of the public in this last minute donation and feel sure that now the county can meet or come close to the quota.

Urges Public to Call

Mr. Webb said that the trucks were able to canvass every street in the city working until late in the evening, but it is possible that some one's donation was missed. If bundles were not in a conspicuous place it is possible that the collectors overlooked them and if this is true, persons are urged to call 6546, collection headquarters, and ask for a truck to pick up their bundle.

The drive chairman stated today that the people of New Castle and surrounding rural districts have come through in magnificent style in this great effort and deserve much praise for their cooperation. Many of the articles sent in are in excellent condition and will go far in helping the needy of the world.

Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Wallace of Washington, D. C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Lieut. Commander Leslie Douglas, USNR, of New York, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Douglas, of Eron Valley, Miss. Wallace graduated from National Cathedral school in Washington and Connecticut College for Women, New London, Conn. She made her debut in December of 1939 at a reception given by her parents at the Carlton. Miss Wallace is a granddaughter of the late Henry C. Wallace, former secretary of agriculture. She was connected with the Office of Strategic Services for almost two years.

Commander Douglas graduated from Geneva college and from the University of Harvard. Following his graduation from Harvard he was associated with the brokerage firm of Clark, Dodge, New York City, and later with the investment management committee of the Royal Liverpool Group.

He entered the Navy in 1941 and has been attached to the Bureau of Ordnance since that date.

The wedding will take place in the fall.

JAYNE BRENNEMAN'S WEDDING PLANS TOLD

Miss Jayne Brennenman, who has chosen February 7 as the date for her wedding, was the guest of honor at a lovely miscellaneous shower given at The Castleton by Cade, Sally Theophilus of Bedford street.

During the early part of the evening the guests compiled a scrapbook for the bride-elect and later refreshments were served.

Numbers on the target of a miniature bow and arrow set directed the guest of honor in what order to open gifts with corresponding numbers.

Miss Brennenman's wedding plans are for an open church ceremony to be performed in the Third U. P. church at 7:30 o'clock on February 7. She will become the bride of Wallace Moore of East Washington street.

She has asked her sister, Mrs. Russell Hooks of Kittanning to be her matron of honor and Mrs. Harry Chambers of Norfolk, Va. and Miss Sally Theophilus to be bridesmaids.

Mr. Hooks will be best man and Donald Gibson and Raymond Moore will be ushers for Mr. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McCreary, 1323 East Washington street, will give the wedding rehearsal dinner on Wednesday evening, February 6.

BETROTHAL TO END IN JUNE WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Silverblatt, of Ellwood City, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marcia, to William B. Lieberman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Lieberman, of New York City.

The bride-elect is a member of the February graduating class of the University of Pittsburgh. Her fiance is a senior in the University of Pittsburgh dental school. A June wedding is planned.

WILKES WRIGHT CHURCH CEREMONY

Miss June Wilkes of this city daughter of Mrs. Katherine Wilkes of St. Petersburg, Fla., became the bride of William D. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright of Cascade street, at a ceremony performed in the First Baptist church on Friday evening, January 25, at 7:45 o'clock. Nuptial vows were exchanged with Rev. Oliver W. Hurst officiating.

For her wedding the bride was attractive in an aqua wool costume suit with black accessories and a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. Robert W. Brest was maid of honor and wore a melon sheer wool dress, black accessories and a corsage of carnations and yellow roses.

Eugene Wright was his brother's best man.

The couple left on a short wedding trip and on their return will be at home at 835 East Washington street.

Mrs. Wright is employed at the New Castle Store. For the past year she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Grover Beyerly of 308 Jones street.

Mr. Wright is associated with the Castle Showcase company of this city.

NEWLYWEDS TAKE UP RESIDENCE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Minner have taken up residence at 923 North Cedar street following their wedding Friday evening, January 18, in the parsonage of Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church.

Members of the immediate families attended the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. J. C. Murphy at 6:30 o'clock.

The bride, the former Miss Martha Black of 840 Bedford street, wore a gold wool dress with black accessories and an orchid shoulder corsage.

She had as maid of honor Mrs. Vanetta Nahan, who wore aqua and black accessories and an orchid corsage.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Minner of 337 East Washington street, had Wilbur Thomas as best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at the home of Mrs. Eugene Brotmarkle, sister of the bride. The couple left on a short wedding trip.

Mrs. Minnie is a graduate of New Castle high school and attended Youngstown college. She is employed at the Associated Box Corporation.

Mr. Minner, a graduate of New Castle high school, was recently discharged from service. He is employed at the National Cash Register Co.

Getting Out Of The SEAC

Windup of American military and naval participation with the British in the "Southeast Asia Command" closes one of the most historic phases of World War II. Among its widespread operations, long directed by Lord Louis Mountbatten, were those of General Frank D. Merrill's Marauders and General Joseph W. Stilwell's Chinese forces.

The Americans particularly fought, and fought brilliantly, to drive back the Japanese and maintain communications between India and China during critical phases of the war. But since the war's victorious end the continued association of American forces with the British has taken on disturbing aspects.

This has especially been the case in Java. There an "Allied" force under SEAC, battling Indonesian revolutions, has actually been preponderantly British, with some Dutch troops, but no Americans.

Yet the inference persisted that we were mixed in, somehow, and it wasn't dismissed by British and Dutch use of American-made military equipment.

Official announcement of our withdrawal from SEAC puts the change on the basis that we no longer have any logical concern with military operations there.

To Americans, however, the important point is that our country is no longer linked even indirectly with British activities in Java which in the long run aim to support Dutch colonial rule.

We are well out of that situation. It was unfortunate that we appeared, as Allies, to be in it for a little while. It is still unfortunate that substantial American forces remain in China. The Chinese truce, however, should release large numbers of our men. That, too, would be highly satisfactory.

Army Recruiting Drive

With the future of the draft law clouded, the Army is seeking to make re-enlistments more attractive so as to assure a minimum force of 1,500,000 for occupation and war liquidation roles. The campaign for volunteers has a direct bearing on the release time of men now in the service and its results also may have an effect on congressional decision whether compulsory peacetime military training is necessary.

The latest re-enlistment inducement will give soldiers returning to civil life ninety days, prior to July 1, in which to decide whether to re-enlist in the regular army with the privilege of retaining their present grade and pay. The deadline had been February 1. Thousands already have signed up, breaking all recruiting records, and the Army is counting on a minimum of 650,000 volunteers by July 1.

The United States may forfeit respect of the nations of the world if it reduces its military force to ineffectiveness. A strong regular army made up of volunteers, is the democratic answer to the nation's occupation problem.

The Army offers an attractive peacetime career with lifetime retirement pay at its end. Youths about to be discharged or who have received their discharges may well consider the opportunities to be had in re-enlisting.

Plenty Of Trouble

Representatives of fifty-one nations are in assembly in London in the effort to establish organizations that may function in preserving the peace of the world.

That is about as laudable an undertaking as could be suggested at this stage of the world's history, and peace-loving people will hope that it may succeed in an effective degree.

While plans for world peace are being discussed, several annoying happenings are taking place in the Middle and Far East sections of a still jittery world.

Iran, for example, is accusing Russia of plotting against the government of that small country, by sponsoring a puppet rule in one of the northern provinces.

The Palestine problem is far from solution, and bombings and shootings in Jerusalem and environs tell of the bitter feeling between Jews and the Arabs.

Add to these the killings and rioting in Seoul in protest of the Allied trusteeship over Korea, and you may realize the trouble a few small nations are able to make in a big world.

Hitler, who threatened to rise from the grave, may just be waiting until things clear up a bit.

Member of Congress is pictured doing a buck-and-wing. On with the dance; let joy be unconfined.

Once it was said the nation needed a good five-cent cigar. Right now a suitable $5,000 house would be more to the point.

Real purpose of Churchill's visit has not been explained. It seems certain he did not come over just to play in the sand at Miami.

A Bomb Naval Test Should Be Conclusive

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The atomic bomb is once again on the front page, and that is all to the good. There was a time when we seemed almost to have forgotten this terrible and wonderful instrument we created.

Now the navy is to conduct a test on 35 warships and about 65 lesser craft. That test should go a long way toward answering the question of sea power in the future of warfare. If the test is set up on a fair basis and if the findings are edited by oldline admirals with an incurable passion for battleships, then we should know a great deal more than we do now about how to spend our security budget.

Foolish Restriction
The question of whether any foreign representatives will be allowed to witness the test is under discussion. To bar them would seem a foolish restriction. Surely, it should be possible to safeguard all "secrets" and yet permit foreign experts to see for themselves what the new force can actually do. If there are any doubts about its power, then a first-hand look should convince the doubters.

Meanwhile, the Senate Atomic Energy committee, under the chairmanship of Senator Brien McMahon, is holding hearings on McMahon's bill to put control of the atomic energy project under a commission made up of top ranking civilians. It is a step long overdue.

So far, the government has left the project entirely in the hands of the military men who directed its development. In short, atomic energy has been treated as merely another weapon of war.

Opinion Shifts
But it is obvious that a shift in opinion has occurred. At the time that the atomic bomb was first revealed to the world, the War department sent a bill to Congress which, if it had been adopted, would have had the effect of concentrating all power in an admiralty, and that admiralty would in all probability have been a military man. That was the May-Johnson bill, which was sidetracked by vigorous protests from the scientists who had helped to make the bomb.

When Secretary of Navy James Forrestal testified on the McMahon bill the other day, he took an entirely different tack. He recommended merely that the military be allowed to participate with civilians on the control commission. He argued that this was necessary to insure protection of the military phrases of atomic energy until world control could be worked out.

Specific Changes
Forrestal recommended some specific changes in the McMahon bill. As written, the bill provides that the commissioners shall serve at the pleasure of the President. Then pay would be $15,000 a year. The navy secretary urged that they be given a status comparable to that of Supreme Court Justices, with an equal salary—$20,000 a year—and a fixed term of office, subject only to impeachment for cause.

These last may be necessary changes. Forrestal's contention that top-ranking scientists and industrialists would not serve under any other conditions has some validity. While authority should be concentrated in the President, there must be safeguards for the commissioners in order to insure that men of the first distinction would accept the responsibility.

On the international front, there is hopeful progress toward control of atomic energy. The United Nations organization has made a start in voting to create an atomic commission. It was done without a dissenting vote in the general assembly.

Jointly Sponsored
The proposal for the commission was jointly sponsored by the powers that created the bomb and by Russia. Russia's deputy commissar for foreign affairs, Andrei V. Vishinsky, made a speech in which he called the atomic resolution a "mobile move."

The real work of course, remains to be done. That is to set up control machinery which will be approved by all the powers. It is a task of overwhelming magnitude.

Yet it has been made, and there have been times in the recent past when even this much seemed remote.

Surely, the new atomic commission should have representation at the tests to be conducted in the Pacific in May and July. Perhaps the commission itself should attend. It would be an object lesson in urgency that might speed their deliberations more than any number of speeches.

And the time is short. New methods of atomic fission, more economical and more far-reaching in their potentialities, are now being developed. Copyright, 1946, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

What People Say

WASHINGTON—Charles Wilson, president of General Motors, defends the private enterprise system and adds: "And I would be a Socialist if I thought it would make the people happier and more prosperous."

MIAMI—President William Green welcomes John L. Lewis back into the A F of L. "I interpret this step as evidence on the part of the United Mine Workers to vibrate out divinity and establish unity, and it will have a profound effect upon the commission and development of a united labor government."

NEW YORK—Dr. Lee Melnick, famous scientist, expresses hope that atomic energy will be used for the benefit of mankind rather than destruction. "The principle can be used constructively for industrial purposes. The radioactive by-products formed in the process will be of the greatest importance to medicine."

EAST TOONERVILLE'S NEW HOUSING DEVELOPMENT ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF TOWN

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:29. Sun rises tomorrow 6:30.

A lot of talk is interesting to a lot of people, even if it isn't true.

A local kid got a licking because he bought an all-day sucker at four o'clock in the afternoon.

A gal said most everybody admires her engagement ring. A few also recognized it.

One of life's big problems is what to do next.

PERT AND PERTINENT
"The boy stood on the burning deck, from whence all but him had fled..."—poem.
—may have been strong in faith, but woefully weak in initiative.

"A good many of us have a hard time understanding family pride..."—psychologist.
—especially after we see the family.

"Most people are always wishing for something they haven't got..."—sermon.
—what else is there to wish for?

"Sixty-four per cent of the army's congressional medals of honor were awarded during the war to ground combat men..."—official release.
—and the other 36 per cent were bestowed on "quackie-colonels" who had political pull.

Little Johnnie has his own definition of "men".
Men are what women marry. They drink and smoke and swear, and don't go to church except when they get old or sick. Maybe they would go more often, if they were skittish.

They are more logical than women, also they are more zoological.

Both men and women sprang from monkeys but women sprang the farthest.

How important you feel when somebody comes to you for advice, is there one thing anyhow that everybody favors—lower taxes.

If you have some sympathy to spare, give it to a giraffe with a sore throat.

Why is it that so many things we feel like doing are either illegal or considered bad?

Hez Heck says: "Clocks were invented so we could see how long until it will be till the next meal."

CURIOUS CYNIC CANTS
Women are like money, keep them busy or they lost interest.
There's one consolation to the returning G. I. in that absence dwells small passions and magnifies great ones.
One thing wrong with America is that there are too many grade-crossings in the elementary schools.

Who and what we love fashions the aspirations of us all.

A mind reader is the only person who should worry about what people will think.

In the old flapper days you could recognize different bumps on the highway. If it was flat, there was no cloud of feathers.

If you want to see real sympathy, look at the fellow who's sorry for himself.

Be what you wish others to become. Let yourself, and not your words, preach for you.

For every man who is his own worst enemy there are hundreds who are their own best friends.

There is no tactful or polite or diplomatic way to mention the fact that a woman is fat.

World politics is like any other kind. To win you must co-operate with the kind of people you don't like.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDELS

Harry Conover, head of a famous New York model agency, has criticized the country's fashion designers for "trying to give America a generation of flat-chested, emaciated, ill-tempered women who will be hard to live with."

"Present fashions are pointed toward making women look like matchsticks," he said, "thus ruining their health and dispositions. I tell my models to eat as much as they like. Returning servicemen want a well-rounded bundle, not a matchstick."

Well, now, let us see, Mr. Conover.

I respect your judgment as a connoisseur of the female figure, of course, because you know so much more about it than I do. But when you speak about women as a "bundle," you must admit that a bundle's value does not consist in its wrapping or in its shape, but in its contents.

The other day I bought my wife a birthday gift. Like all women she looked at the package and the pretty ribbon and the wrapping, and before she opened it she said:

"This must be something valuable because it's such a small package."

I don't think that it makes a bit of difference how much a woman weighs or whether she is stout or slim. If the contents of the bundle are all right, that's all that matters.

We all admire pretty women. If a man just wants a nightgown companion or something to show off, he naturally chooses the most glamorous thing he can get hold of, just as a merchant puts his best-looking merchandise into his show window. But men don't marry women by weight or shape or size. Marriage is not a meat market nor does any man pick out a woman as he would a piece of meat. He chooses her for her personality, her intelligence, her ability to make him feel good. And that's all that matters.

Don't ever think that a man doesn't like to have a good-looking wife. His vanity is too much for that. But I know several fellows who were afraid to marry girls who were too good looking. They just didn't feel up to it.

My wife is what Mr. Conover would call a matchstick. She is five feet seven and weighs 124 pounds. But she is about the best-natured, sweetest person I have ever known—else how could she have put up with me for more than 20 years?

And one of my best friends has a perfectly rounded bundle for a wife—just about Mr. Conover's ideal creature on the hoof.

But oh, what a temper, and what a life she leads him!

Give me a woman with a well-rounded character with a good brain and decent disposition. Give me a woman who knows my faults, yet overlooks them, and you give me a good wife.

And I shall cheerfully give all of those well-rounded bundles to the servicemen who according to Mr. Conover, "will be hard to live with."

SHARING AT HOME
It is neither a new nor very promising idea that the housing shortage might be alleviated by finding room for extra tenants in one-family homes. One reason for the shortage is that many married couples who formerly lived with other families have found homes of their own during the war period and have no desire to go back to crowded quarters.

The OPA hopes to encourage the rental of spare rooms, or their conversion into apartments, by shortening the rules and regulations. It will allow home-owners to set their own price ceilings on rooms which they are willing and able to rent immediately, with the understanding that the rental price will be reported for approval within a reasonable period.

A great deal of home-sharing is in effect already; but much of it is a family affair.

The most hopeful possibility of the home-sharing program may be the provision of decent living quarters for single men and women who now find it nearly impossible to obtain the apartments they want. Many half-filled homes might accommodate a paying guest at a small cost for alterations, and with little inconvenience to their regular inhabitants.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

NERVOUS
People often talk about being nervous. It is pretty hard to tell what they mean.

Sometimes they mean that they are fidgety, sometimes that they are frightened, sometimes that they tremble or shake. They may have curious thoughts or ideas.

Children are often said to be nervous. There are so many causes for this condition that it is sometimes hard to tell what is wrong.

Some of the causes may be the eyes, the thyroid gland, sore feet, bad teeth, diabetes, worms, or a fussy mother. Maybe dad gets on a bender occasionally or often.

If a youngster is troubled with nervousness it is well to have medical advice.

Words Of Wisdom
What is past is past. There is a future left to all men who have the virtue to repent and the energy to atone.

Hints On Etiquette
It is permissible to look at some unusual sight, person, odd dress or mannerism, but we don't need to stare rudely at the sight.

"No!" was said, and "no" was meant. But I wouldn't rest content. And I bought a spaniel puppy. And I took it over there. When they met me at the door, I just placed it on the floor. And their mother when she saw it said: "You know that isn't fair!"

"I'm already overtaken. And what's more you might have asked. But, you know, if once they saw it, I could never tell them: 'No'! Now, again, you've had your way. Since it's here, I'll let it stay. Yes, of course, I had a puppy. But 'twas years and years ago."

"So much extra work it makes. And such constant care it takes. And the feeding and the cleaning! Do you grasp what I mean?" Oh, it's settled down to sleep. Yes, my dears, it's yours to keep! That was all to hear. I'd walked. So I grabbed my coat and hat.

Congress Faces Big Legislative Agenda
Honeymoon Of Congress, White House Ends
Pressure Groups Accused In Price Control

By HELEN ESSARY
Special Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—President Truman's appeal to the American people to "put the heat" on their congressmen in behalf of his legislative program is believed to be the first overt move of its kind ever made to the people by an American president.

Mr. Truman in his recent request to the nation particularly asked the people to become a "pressure group" and demand that their congressmen force stalemated legislation out into the open.

Although the late President Roosevelt toppled many a cherished tradition and sent many a president into the discard in his 12 years in office, it is recalled that he never bluntly asked the people to pressure his wishes through Congress.

Some observers point out that the closest Mr. Roosevelt ever came to such a device was his forthright opposition to re-election of certain senators and congressmen whom he charged with obstructing his legislative desires.

Truman Knows Senate
Mr. Truman's strategy assumes special significance in view of his career. He was a senator and upon his succession to the presidency, he met frequently with his former colleagues. Now he has struck a telling blow at some of these former colleagues, virtually telling Congress that it will be a battle to the finish.

This has led to speculation in some quarters whether the honeymoon of the Senate and White House might not be over. If, indeed, it ever was in full bloom.

This is an idea of how heavy a schedule Congress faces with more than 50 per cent of President Truman's legislative recommendations still to be acted upon.

The immediate problem is the ratification of the $4

ELLWOOD WEDDING

In the B.V.M. church, Ellwood City, Saturday morning at 9:30, Miss Elizabeth Madelyn Zona, daughter of Nicholas Zona, 131 Line avenue, Ellwood City, became the bride of Edward Halusic, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Halusic of Marietta.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Father Galavano, assisted by Fathers Pernottozzi and Lesniak.

The bride was beautiful in a brocaded taffeta gown with a corsage of white roses and baby mums.

Maid of honor was Miss Rose Mooney of New Castle who wore a gown fashioned with a pink satin bodice and blue net skirt, a tulle nook, and carried yellow roses with blue streamers.

The bridesmaids were sisters of the bride, Miss Mary and Pauline Zona, wearing rose and blue gowns with contrasting tiaras and carrying bouquets of red roses with streamers.

Albert Cerritelli of Ellwood City served as best man. Ushers were Salvatore Culla and Anthony Zona both of Ellwood.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride.

A reception followed and 60 guests congratulated the bride and groom.

Mrs. Halusic was an employee of the Ellwood Tube company, while her husband was formerly employed with the United Engineering company in this city.

The couple left for a short wedding trip after which they will reside at the home of the bride's father.

On Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the Pilgrim Mission, Neshannock avenue, Miss Jean Marie Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Peterson of Neshannock avenue, became the bride of John Ross Emery, of 1123 Dewey avenue.

Rev. Clifford L. Duncan officiated in the presence of a number of friends and relatives.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at 1123 Dewey avenue, where the newlyweds have taken up residence.

The bride's mother, her sister, Mrs. Frank Bunsides, and Mrs. Nancy Currie and Mrs. Ruth I. Nelson were aides at the wedding reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Emery, of Slippery Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Emery, of New Galilee, Leroy Taylor, of Mercer, and Robert E. Kelly, of Youngstown, were out-of-town guests.

BILLYK HERJECZSKI

WEDDING IN ELLWOOD

Miss Mary Billyk, daughter of 910 North Liberty street, and Frank Herjeczski, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herjeczski, of 1505 Belmont street, were united in marriage Sunday, January 27, in the Holy Trinity church of Ellwood City in the presence of a few relatives and friends.

Rev. Michael Chanda officiated with the single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a brown suit with rust accessories and a shoulder corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Martin Binder, of this city, aunt of the bride, was her attendant and wore a pink suit with a shoulder corsage of red roses.

Frank Billyk, brother of the bride, was best man.

In the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Komarc, Ashland avenue, this city, for the immediate families and friends.

The couple left on a honeymoon to Detroit and on their return will take up residence with the bride's mother.

Mrs. Herjeczski was formerly employed by the Associated Box Corp. Mr. Herjeczski was recently discharged from the navy after three years' service.

Little Flower Club
Members of the Little Flower club were entertained Friday evening, in St. Mary's Hall with Mrs. J. Martin and Mrs. Mary Geddies as co-hostesses.

BETTY BLOOMER AGAIN HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barkby, of 217 Hillcrest avenue, were pleasing hosts at a lovely pre-nuptial towel shower, Saturday evening, honoring Miss Betty Bloomer, a future bride.

Approximately 18 guests attending, and various games including stunts and contests were featured, enjoyed by those attending.

At an appropriate hour, the hostess served a delicious lunch in the dining room, with the bridal theme predominating. Dan Carroll and Mrs. Harvey Bush.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bloomer, and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Clobus.

The honoree received many lovely gifts from her friends, including a silver sash from Mrs. Barkby to put in her shoe on her wedding day.

Miss Bloomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bloomer, Hillcrest avenue, will become the bride of Dale Clobus, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Clobus, Delaware avenue, in the near future.

PRE-NUPTIAL SHOWER FETES BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Jane Bollinger, bride-elect, was the guest of honor at another in a series of pre-nuptial shower events that have been given and are planned for her, when Miss Eileen Scheidemann and Mrs. George Getty entertained jointly at the former's home on Saturday evening.

Cards were in play during the evening and the honor guest received a number of lovely gifts of a miscellaneous nature.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. G. O. Scheidemann and Mrs. W. R. Bollinger, mother of the bride-elect, as aides.

Miss Bollinger will leave in February for Norwalk, Calif., where she will be married to Sgt. James W. Starr.

JANNETTIS HAVE SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Domenick Jannetti, of 707 East Long avenue, were pleasantly surprised on their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday evening by an event held by friends and their children, in the Morton street Hall.

An informal time was enjoyed and later refreshments were served by Mrs. Alfonso Jannetti, Mrs. Viola Sera and Mrs. Izzi.

The couple were the recipients of many lovely gifts.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Louis Longrotti, Mrs. Lorenzo and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Roberts, and Gabriel Santuono and daughter and son-in-law, all of Greenville, Pa.

VET DIES IN CRASH

SHIPPENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 28.—(INS)—The victim of a highway accident near Roberts was identified today as Robert T. Shaaber, of Upper Strasburg, 24-year-old ex-serviceman.

Shaaber's body was hurled through the windshield when his car skidded on a curve and punched into an embankment.

The disorders flared for about a half hour.

When order was restored the mass picket line had sealed the building completely. Last week, union leaders threatened to surround the building so tight that "not even a flea could enter."

Picket Forces Bar Non-Strikers From Building

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Sporadic scuffles between police and pickets erupted today in front of the struck Western Union building in downtown New York, where more than 1,000 pickets barred 250 non-striker employees from entering the building.

The disorders flared for about a half hour.

When order was restored the mass picket line had sealed the building completely. Last week, union leaders threatened to surround the building so tight that "not even a flea could enter."

Robert C. Walter Ends Navy Service

Having received his honorable discharge from Sampson Separation Center, N. Y., Robert C. Walter, Mo. M. M. 2-c, has arrived home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walter of 606 West Clayton street.

Robert had been in the U. S. service for almost three years, and was overseas in the Atlantic and Mediterranean Theater of Operations.

In the invasion of Southern France, Machine Gunner Walter's P. T. Boat was lost, and Robert was wounded, but he has made a good recovery. Among his decorations are the ETO Ribbon, with three Battle Stars, and the Purple Heart.

Robert attended New Castle high school, and graduated at high school in Willard, Ohio. He attended the Allied Machinery School in Chicago, and prior to joining the service was employed by the A. W. Hecker Company of Cleveland.

Local Duckpin Team
Plays In Pittsburgh

Saturday evening a group of B. and O. Railroad employees of the car shops and clerks, journeyed to Pittsburgh for a duckpin game with the Glenwood B. and O. railroad ship team in their league. The local team was edged out by a narrow margin.

A splendid luncheon was served following the game by the host team. The local B. and O. team was headed by Sam Ross, Frank Hank, Carbone, Harry Ross and Carl Sewald.

Cpl. Tony Russo
Gets Discharge

Recently receiving his honorable discharge from the armed forces, at Indiantown Gap separation center, Cpl. Tony Russo is home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Russo, and family, of 812 West Clayton street.

Cpl. Russo was with the service

His decorations are ETO Ribbon with three battle stars, American Theater, American Defense Ribbons, Good Conduct and Purple Heart medals. Tony was wounded February 6 in the Rhineland and has recovered nicely.

Before joining the service he was employed at the local B. and O. car shops. He was a graduate of New Castle high school, class of January, 1943.

HAPPY GO LUCKY CLUB HAS SESSION

Mrs. Connee Sautora, South Cedar street, was honored on her birthday Saturday, when the Happy Go Lucky club met in her home.

Singing and dancing were pastimes, and later the hostess served lunch, aided by her mother, Mrs. Mary Palmer. The door prizes were won by Matilda Melozzi and Louis Iovanello.

The hostess received a lovely gift from the club. Special guests attending were: Martha Domenick and Louis Iovanello.

Josephine Melozzi, 118 South Cedar street, will be hostess on February 9.

Gets Position As Fashion Designer

Mr. and Mrs. John Russo, of 20 Montgomery avenue, have received word from their daughter, Miss Mary Clara Russo, that she has accepted a position as fashion designer in a ladies dress shop in Cleveland.

Miss Russo is a graduate of the Darvas School of Fashion Arts, in that city, where she was a student for two years. She is a graduate of New Castle high school, class of June 1941.

MAHONING W.C.T.U.

Relief At Last
For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allows the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Begin Defense Of General Homma In Court At Manila

MANILA, Jan. 28.—(INS)—The defense began its presentation of testimony today in the war crimes trial of Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma and attempted to show that the so-called "Beast of Bataan" favored mild treatment to war prisoners. Chief defense counsel Major John Skeen, Baltimore, Md., told the trial commission he would prove that Homma neither ordered nor had any knowledge of atrocities committed by troops of his command.

The first defense witness was Lt. Gen. Taisei Wachi, Homma's former chief of staff, who testified that Homma had little or no control over Japanese Military Police in the early days of the war. Wachi declared that the Military Police were under direct orders from Tokyo.

Commends Work Of Foundation

Dr. G. S. Bennett Praises
National Foundation For
Infantile Paralysis

MARCH OF DIMES HELD WORTHWHILE

In a letter to William R. Hanna, chairman of the Lawrence County Chapter, of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the work of the Chapter is commended, and the March of Dimes is presented to the public as a worthwhile effort, by Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church.

Dr. Bennett's letter follows: Mr. W. R. Hanna, Chairman, Lawrence County Committee, National Foundation, Infantile Paralysis Inc., New Castle, Pa.

Dear Mr. Hanna: I want to add my few words to the many other things that have already been said concerning the splendid work you and your several committees are doing in connection with the March of Dimes campaign.

Of all the special efforts that are made in our community for the raising of special funds, surely none is more worthy of our best support. It is a rare privilege to have even a small share in helping to bring relief, and even cure, to a suffering child. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has done, and is doing, a marvellous work in fighting this dreaded disease and thus helping to bring health and happiness to thousands of helpless children. I really believe that no other service nearer to the heart of God than this.

With every good wish for a most successful campaign.

Very truly yours,

Rev. G. S. BENNETT.

Trigger-quick starting SUNOCO DYNAFUEL

... PLUS INCOMPARABLE SMOOTHNESS

HERE'S WHY ONLY DYNAFUEL GIVES YOU THIS PLUS

ALL gasolines (including Sunoco Dynafuel) are composed of "light" and "heavy" molecules. As the gasoline goes into the cylinders from the carburetor, some of the "heavy" molecules separate from the rest of the gasoline and go to certain cylinders which get most of the "heavy" molecules while other cylinders get mostly "light" molecules.

IN ORDINARY GASOLINE the "heavy" molecules are low in octane quality. The cylinders receiving the low grade "heavy" molecules do not receive the same high knockless quality as other cylinders.

IN SUNOCO DYNAFUEL, all molecules, both "heavy" and "light" deliver equally high octane power. No matter whether a cylinder receives "light" or "heavy" molecules, that cylinder and all cylinders receive uniformly high knockless quality.

Ends Pastorate After 39 Years

Former President Of Westminster
College Board Has Longest
Pastorate In Pittsburgh

Rev. A. R. Robinson, for 16 years president of the board of trustees of Westminster college, is resigning from the pastorate of the Sixth United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh after 39 years continuous service.

Dr. Robinson's pastorate is the longest in the city. Besides his long service with the church, and his duty as president of the Westminster board, he served as moderator of the United Presbyterian church of North America in 1937, and for 15 years has been president of the board of trustees of Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological seminary.

Born in Monroe county, New York, Dr. Robinson was graduated from Westminster college in 1889. Before going to the Pittsburgh church he preached in Martins Ferry, O., and the First Presbyterian church of Butler.

Not Allowed To Spit In Police Car

Don't spit in a police car. If you do you will be fined $5.00.

At least, this was the fine imposed upon one "Jesse Graham" in police court Sunday.

He was arrested for drunkenness in Apple Way.

However, police had to answer an accident call and took Graham as a "prisoner" with them.

They discovered later he had ex-perted in the police car.

Mayor John F. Haven fined him $5 for spitting.

The State Police Say: Officers Of Slovak Club Are Inducted

Does your car still have a yellow inspection sticker? If so, it will be illegal to operate after midnight, Jan. 31. The inspection period closes in a few days and all cars must bear the new inspection sticker on and after February 1, 1946. The penalty for this violation probably would more than cover the cost of the inspection.

Something in a Name

Many people, when it comes to religion, claim to believe that there is nothing in a name, and that one name is just as good as another. No one would make such a statement about anything other than religion, neither do they really believe such a thing even in religion.

Let us notice a few scriptural facts and statements. God named Adam, Gen. 2:2. God changed Abram's and Sara's names, Gen. 17:5-15. God changed Jacob's name to Israel, Gen. 32:28, so that God would receive glory as Israel means "Prince of God". God's people in times past wore the name He gave them, "Israelites".

In Phil. 2:9-11 Paul said, "God also hath highly exalted him (Christ), and given him a name which is above every name". Thus we know Christ's name is better than other names. In Acts 4:12 Peter said, "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved". There is salvation in the name of Christ only.

God promised in Isa. 62:2 to give his people a new name. In Acts 11:26 the disciples were called Christians, the new name God promised. God's people today are Christians and Christians only.

Banquet Enjoyed

Pittsburgh Speakers Attend Banquet Of Tifereth Men's Club Sunday Evening

A large crowd attended the annual banquet sponsored by the Tifereth Israel men's club Sunday evening in the synagogue's social rooms, with members' wives attending as guests.

At 6:15 o'clock the delicious full course chicken dinner was served, prepared by the Tifereth Israel Sisterhood, with Mrs. Louise Zieve in charge.

America was sung, and the invocation followed by Rabbi Hyman Krash, spiritual leader of the Tifereth Israel congregation.

Gus Slovinsky, president of the Men's club, gave the welcoming address, and Ephraim Solomon made the opening remarks, thanking all committees, including Maurice Samuels of the speakers' committee.

Edward Haines, founder of the club, and honorary president, and now secretary of the organization, was called to make brief remarks.

Rabbi Hyman Krash, as next speaker, gave an appropriate talk and following a message was read from Samuel Schwartz, president of the congregation, who was unable to attend.

A speaker from out-of-town was introduced, Edward Mazorov of Pittsburgh, who is head of the Boy Scouts of the Plazadeck congregation, Pittsburgh, and director of dramatics. Mr. Mazorov wrote the original song, "I Didn't Raise My Boy To Be A Soldier," when he was a 12-year-old Boy Scout during the World War I, and which received high recognition. Mr. Mazorov spoke on "Scouting As To Manhood and Good Soldiers," and he emphasized the high place scouting held in regards to the world war just won.

Maurice Robbins, the principal speaker of the evening, is very active in Pittsburgh Men's club, and is president of the Men's club of the Plazadeck congregation, and also vice president of the United Jewish Congress of Men's club of the city of Pittsburgh. Mr. Robbins is an outstanding speaker in all bond drives and activities conducted in Pittsburgh. He gave an interesting and educational talk on "Men's Club Activities in General," including a few past experiences and anecdotes.

Ephraim Solomon, general chairman, made the closing announcements about the Sisterhood, and the next regular Men's club meeting for February 5.

Rabbi Krash gave the benediction, followed by the Hatikvah.

Charles W. Carbeau Is Elected President Of Boy Scout Council

Elden Danner Receives Silver Beaver Award At Annual Council Meeting

Charles W. Carbeau was re-elected president of the Lawrence County Boy Scout Council at the council's annual meeting held Saturday, Jan. 26, at The Castleton hotel. The council held afternoon and evening meetings with 119 Scouters and their wives attending.

Rounding out the list of council officers for the new year were the following men: J. H. Martin, vice president; Dr. J. Wesley Post, vice president; Earle B. Yahn, vice president; Ivor Davis, treasurer; Ernest B. Hawk, commissioner; Thomas G. Allen, secretary.

Elected members of the executive committee included the following: Ralph Audino, Rev. G. S. Bennett, Dr. A. H. Borland, Hon. W. Walter Braham, Harry Culliford, Hans N. Drie, Ralph Davis, Jack Gerson, Frank Goff, Warren Grocott, Frank W. Hill, Paul Kanengeiser, Joseph Leeper, Marshal G. Matheny, J. J. McLaughlin, A. H. Miller, Anthony Navarra, T. L. Paden, Harry Reed, Louis B. Round, J. Nelson Runyan, R. J. Schill, Rev. V. V. Stancelowski, Samuel A. Moore, Howard Temple and William Reed.

Charles Carbeau and T. L. Paden were named as representatives to the National Council.

Procedure Outlined
In the afternoon conferences, Warren Grocott was in charge of the topic of advancement and outlined a new procedure for boards of review and courts of honor which will go into effect soon. This plan has been approved by the executive board and the advancement committee and copies were made available to all attending. All troops will also get the plan.

Organization and extension discussion was under the supervision of Ernest B. Hawk, who said that the council planned to have 46 active troops and 19 active packs in their new organization. At present there are 38 troops and two packs, totaling 1,002 boys as of December 31, 1945. By the end of 1946 it is hoped to have 1,483 boys in the fold.

Elden Danner Honored
At the evening dinner, Louis B. Round, vice president and general manager of the Pennsylvania Power company, delivered the main address, giving an interesting and forceful talk on Boy Scout work, its past achievements and its bright future.

Highlight of the dinner meeting was the presentation of the Silver Beaver award to Elden Danner of Ellwood City, a member of the district committee during 1945. Mr. Danner was presented the coveted award for his outstanding achievements in the field of scouting and was selected as the scout leader in the county who did the most in the advancement of Boy Scout work in this district. His name was selected by past recipients of the award.

Another feature of the evening was the fine song led by Ivor Davis.

Japanese Peers Must Clean House

All Peers Involved In Sponsoring Japanese Aggression Must Get Out

TOKYO, Jan. 28.—(INS)—The Japanese government today requested members of the House of Peers to examine their own political records and resign if they were affected by General McArthur's purge directive.

The government indicated that peers who were involved in sponsoring Japan's wars of aggression would be forcibly ousted if they failed to bow out of the political picture in graceful fashion.

The general "reform" movement in Japan also found labor union leaders making new demands.

The Kyodo News Agency reported the establishment of a national federation of labor with the primary aims of setting up a 40-hour work week and unemployment insurance benefits.

OUTSIDE CONSTRUCTION

is a Big Part of our

$150,000,000 EXPANSION PROGRAM

Even with all the telephone instruments we can possibly use (and we're well on our way to having them) and even with all the additional central office equipment we need (which still has us hamstrung in a good many places), there still remains the mighty job of building what we call the "outside plant."

This is the vast network of cables and wires that connects every telephone everywhere with its central office—and with all other telephones.

This is the fresh ditches you see, ready to cover cables unreeled from giant spools . . . the poles sprouting skyward . . . the new buildings going up . . . the linemen and cable splicers at work in the cities and at country crossroads.

This is the huge undertaking that will bring telephone service to more and more farmers in all the rural areas we serve.

Without the "outside plant" and the endless hours of hard work required to build it, telephone service couldn't exist. It means to us what tracks mean to a railroad, what highways mean to trucks, what oceans mean to steamships.

It's the connecting link between us and you, and between you and anyone you know who has a telephone.

Big job?

Gigantic job!

But this vital part of our $150,000,000 expansion program is under way.

Here are
THE THREE OBJECTIVES
of our
$150,000,000*
EXPANSION PROGRAM

1. To end all waiting lists for telephone service.
2. To provide the people of this State—city people and farmers—with finer and finer telephone service.
3. To make available the many new developments in communication, pioneered by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

*Part of the Bell System's two billion dollar Expansion Program.

Talks To Wife And Small Son In Europe

James E. Temenski, former service man of 318 Shaw street, talked via telephone with his wife and 21 month old son, who exclaimed "Hello Daddy" at Devizes, Wiltshire, England, Sunday it was reported today. Reception was clear as a bell and according to Temenski it was like talking a short distance in this country.

His wife was the former Miss Dorothy E. Harding and she stated that both she and their little son will come to America in February.

Temenski was a New Castle high athlete in 1937 and 1938.

While in service he participated in the Normandy invasion, was later taken prisoner but escaped to England April 21, last year. After being hospitalized in England, he was flown to the U. S. and was honorably discharged from service September 8, 1945.

The District of Columbia was at one time a part of Maryland.

Steelworkers File About 300 Claims In County This Morning

Within two hours after registration for unemployment compensation opened for workers now engaged in industrial disputes, approximately 253 new claims were filed in Lawrence county. George R. Gettings, manager of the local U. S. Employment Service office, revealed this morning.

Claims were filed both in Ellwood

City and New Castle today by those whose social security numbers end in "0" of "1". One hundred and seventy of the claims, filed up to and including 11 o'clock, were filed in Ellwood City.

In addition to the 253 new claims, about 50 old claims were reopened, bringing the total up to 300. The workers are filing their claims at the United Labor Hall on South Jefferson street, at the C. I. O. Hall in Ellwood City, and at the local employment office. Volunteers from the United Steelworkers are assisting with the work.

Religious Methods Subject Of Course For Students Now

Westminster Group Studies Sunday
School Teaching, Secretary's
Work In New Class

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 28.—Modern Religious Methods, given first semester at Westminster college by Rev. Wayne Christy, Bible instructor, has been helpful to those students training for a life of Christian service.

A study of theory and methods for Sabbath schools, week-day religious education, leadership training, vacation Bible-school, young people's work, and work of church secretaries and minister had been conducted with the use of recent pamphlets, magazines, and books. Special features of the course included an observation tour of the Sabbath school of the Third United Presbyterian church of New Castle, of which Rev. C. R. Thayer is minister, a demonstration of the use of said aids in mission work by Dr. P. Emmett Alter, of Rawlston, Ind., and a talk on the work of a church secretary by Miss Virginia Williams, graduate of Westminster in 1945 and youth secretary in the Beaver United Presbyterian church.

At the next dinner meeting of the New Castle Executives Club, on Tuesday evening, February 5, the speaker will be Robert Friess, who is a sort of cross between Burton Holmes and the late Richard Halliburton, only Friess has a sense of humor.

This sense of humor has stood him in good stead in many of his embarrassing and sometimes dangerous predicaments in strange nations. Moreover, it stands him in good stead in describing his peregrinations as he can and does kid himself, as well as his audience.

His talk here is titled "Mexican Holiday."

FURS NEED CARE FOR THEIR BEST APPEARANCE

Furs of all kinds are a luxury item in any woman's wardrobe. For their best appearance and greatest wear, furs need special care. Heat, friction and strain are harmful to furs. Heat causes the skins to dry out and become tender so the place for a fur coat when it is not being worn is in a cool closet. Never put it near a heated radiator or hot stove.

Friction causes the fur to wear off, leaving bare spots on the skin. This cannot be avoided entirely but care can be taken to avoid excessive wear in one spot. Carrying a handbag or books always in the same arm may leave a worn spot at the waistline of a coat. Try alternating the positions when carrying articles.

Worn and matted spots at the back of a coat collar may be avoided by always wearing a scarf. Driving a car is hard on a fur coat because of the constant rubbing across the shoulders and the seat. Women who drive a car should consider this point and select a fur that is serviceable.

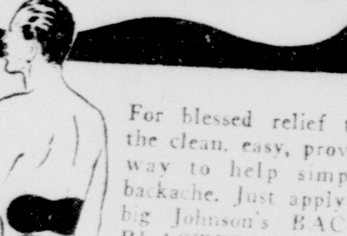

Many fur coats get rips in the skins because undue strain has been put on them. Never hang a fur coat on a hook or nail. Always use a well-padded hanger, or for short periods the coat may be laid on a chair.

Unbutton a coat when sitting down so there is little strain when reaching or stretching. Small rips in furs should be repaired at once. Some repairs may be done at home, always working from the back of the skin and using cotton thread.

Some moisture won't hurt fur, but it should not be allowed to become soaked. If the fur is damp from snow or rain, shake the coat gently to remove the moisture, then hang on a padded hanger in a cool place and allow to dry. If the fur has become soaked, it will be wise to take the garment to a good furrier.

Elizabeth Barrett, when she married Robert Browning, was 40 years old. Browning was six years younger than she.

President Plans Brief Vacation In Florida Waters

Will Leave Washington By Plane
Early On Morning Of February 11

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(INS)—President Truman will leave Washington by air for Florida early on the morning of Feb. 11 for a brief vacation in Florida waters.

The White House made the announcement today of the date of the president's proposed visit to Florida.

It was disclosed in a statement that the president will stop over at Rollins College, enroute to Miami, to receive a degree of doctor of humanities.

The president will journey to Florida in his special C-54 transport plane, flying from Washington to Orlando, and then motoring to Winterhaven, where Rollins College is located.

May Meet Churchill
The degree will be presented to Mr. Truman early in the afternoon and then he will motor back to Orlando and fly to Miami.

Arriving at Miami late in the afternoon, the president is to board the presidential yacht "Williamsburg" for what White House secretary Charles G. Ross said will be a "short cruise in Florida waters."

Whether the president will confer with former Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain, who is now vacationing at Miami Beach, was not stated by the White House. It seemed likely, however, that the two probably would meet during the president's stay in the south Florida waters.

The degree will be conferred on the president by Dr. Hamilton Hall, president of Rollins College.

Watermelon Seeds Used To Save Woman

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Physicians waited anxiously today at the hospital bedside of a 30-year-old woman nephritis victim whose life depends on the seeds of a fresh watermelon.

They prepared a liquid kidney stimulant from the seeds after sending out an appeal for the fruit so that the patient, Mrs. Helen Kelly, could withstand an operation. Hundreds of watermelons were rejected because they were either damaged or made unsuitable because of artificial freezing, which doctors said detracted from the medicinal value of the seeds.

The watermelon finally selected came from the farm of Fred Glockler, of Marlton, N. J., it had been kept fresh by changes in the weather undergone while it was left on the front porch of his home.

EXPECT MEAT COUNTERS SOON TO BE NORMAL

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Meat counters in the Western Pennsylvania area today were expected to resume normal appearances by the middle of the week as CIO meat packers returned to work under government sponsorship.

Officials at the Pittsburgh Provision & Packing Company expected full operations would be in swing by Thursday at the Herr's Island plant. Similar reports were made by officials of Cudahy Packing Company, Swift & Company and

Fathers And Sons To Dine At Union

Hi-Y Club Sponsoring Annual Event
For Union High Sons
And Fathers

Plans for the annual Fathers' and Sons' banquet to be held Thursday evening, January 31, at 6:30 o'clock at the Union high school have been completed. Robert M. Cowher, chairman of the event, announced today.

Sponsored by the Hi-Y club of the school, this annual banquet attracts many fathers and sons each year. That this year's will prove no exception is shown by the fact that preparations are being made for at least 200.

A tasty full course dinner will be served in the auditorium by members of the Union Township Parent-Teachers Association with Mrs. Ed Donley, Mrs. Mike Bowden and Mrs. L. W. Daugherty in charge of the kitchen and dining room committees.

The main address will be given by Rev. J. Calvin Rose. Miss Betty Robinson, music supervisor of Union High, will have charge of the musical entertainment which will consist of several selections by the Boys' Glee club and several instrumental numbers by various students of the school.

Presiding as master of ceremonies will be Milton A. Pattison, principal

BULL MARKET IS AGAIN EVIDENT

Avalanche Of Buying Sweeps Market At Opening Today, Stocks Up Several Points

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(INS)— The stock market staged one of its most bullish demonstrations in months at the opening today. An avalanche of buying swamped the ticker within a few minutes of the opening. Within the first quarter hour it was running two minutes late and abbreviations were being used.

Price gains were just as spectacular. General Motors, after a delayed opening, jumped 3 1/2 to 79. U. S. Steel was about 20 minutes late with the early bid being 90 against an offering of 93. It had closed Saturday at 88 1/2. The first trade was effected at 92 1/2 and was for 3,000 shares.

Chrysler's opening also was delayed about a half hour when a block of 2,500 shares was traded at 140 1/2, a new high and up 6 1/2. Other big gains were 2 1/2 in Bethlehem Steel to 104 1/2; two in International Harvester to 96 1/2; in N. Y. Central to 34 1/2 and points and more in Grumman, Westinghouse Electric, U. S. Rubber, Standard Oil of New Jersey.

First hour volume was 1,010,000 shares and the industrial average was up 35.3. Rails added 1.09 and utilities 0.16 in that period.

Rails were higher. Utilities were strong and active. A block of 10,000 United Corp. crossed the tape at 69 1/2.

Curb and bond prices moved upward with stocks. Commodities were firm.

The reign of Queen Elizabeth is called the "Golden Age" in English history. It was during her reign that patriotism assumed proportions never before attained in that country. During that time such famous explorers as Sir Francis Drake, Frobenius, and Gilbert, set out upon adventurous expeditions; the English navy swept the Spanish Armada from the sea; William Shakespeare, Christopher Marlow, Lily, Kidd, Peale and Stern were creating the so-called Elizabethan drama.

Radar Beaming To Aid Science In Calculations

More Powerful Transmitters
To Fix Value For "Yardstick Of The Universe"

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—(INS)—New and more powerful radar transmitters will enable scientists to fix a more accurate value for the "yardstick of the universe."

This was the belief today of Dr. C. H. Clemmshaw, acting director of the Griffith observatory in further commenting on the army's radar signals to the moon. Dr. Clemmshaw explained:

"The distance from the earth to the sun is used by astronomers as the 'astronomical unit.' Measurements of distances to the outer planets, to comets sweeping around the sun and all other interplanetary space are made in terms of the astronomical unit.

"We can't stretch a tape to the sun, but we can use the same methods as early surveyors used to measure this space. It is a system called triangulation and the only difference is that the astronomer has to use a much longer base line than the surveyor.

"Since the speed of a radar ray is exactly the same as that of light, all we have to do to measure a distance is to time the signals very accurately with a chronograph, and we immediately find the distance.

"It is not possible to send a radar beam to the sun and back, because the sun emits many forms of radiation besides light and heat, and some of these rays would interfere with the radar beam.

"But we can time a flash to Mars or to one of the close-approaching planets, such as Eros, and then establish a constant base line for our calculations."

Accurate Findings
"The distance of the sun is very close to 93,000,000 miles, and now perhaps we can measure it down to a matter of a few miles, if not feet."

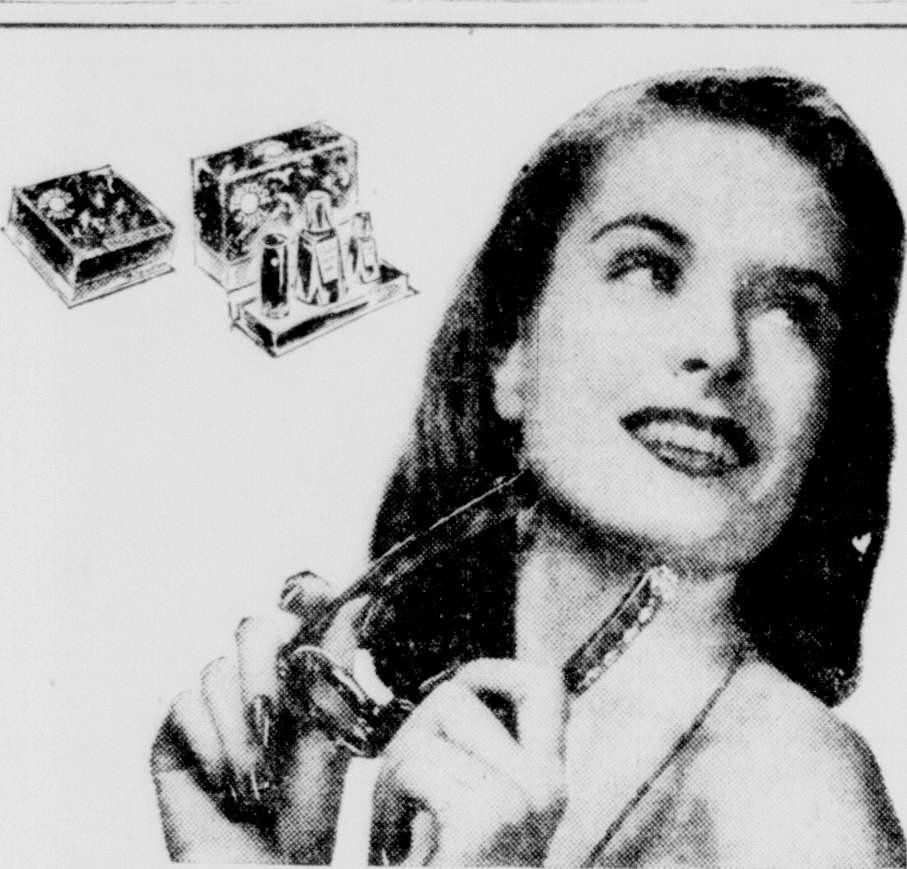

As to the moon signals, Dr. Clemmshaw said radar scanning beams could be expected to give a much more detailed picture of that satellite's rugged volcanic surface.

There are others of all sizes on the moon ranging from barely seen pits to elevations 200 miles in diameter. A small, little object named Copernicus in Los Angeles is seen with a very fine telescope. Under very fine atmospheric conditions, the astronomer said, radar may show us details of the moon's surface that could change our ideas of the moon's surface.

Dr. Clemmshaw said that a team up of the army and navy is working on a radar beam.

RECORD SERVICE
At the New Castle Record Service, 1414 E. Long Ave., H. Jones has returned home. He had completed his tour in U. S. service.

Col. Jones served the first three years in the Hawaiian Islands, and during the remaining three years he spent six months in the Pacific area. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rainey of Rainey avenue.

EQUITY SUIT
In an equity suit filed in the office of Probate and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar, Domenech and Maria Staffa ask that they be given the deed in trusteeship for their former home now occupied by their son and daughter-in-law, Frank and Lillian Staffa.

The plaintiffs aver that in 1925 they bought a home in Hickory township. Their son Frank Staffa later married and he and his wife came to live with the parents.
In April 1941 Frank Staffa suggested that his parents transfer the title of the property to him. It is alleged in return for which he and his wife would keep his parents for the balance of their lives. The transfer was made but in August the defendants moved to the Butler road, Mr. and Mrs. Domenech Staffa aver that since then their son has cut off the support they were to get. They ask that the deed for the property be given to them in trusteeship.

STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION
Judge W. Walter Braham has returned from Harburg where he attended a meeting of the joint state government commission of which he is a member.

During the meeting a suggestion was made concerning a change in the interstate laws which would limit the inheritance of estates left without will to no closer relation than a first cousin. Judge Braham opposed the idea.

Apparently the present Garrett estate tangle may have been at the back of the idea. The Garrett estate is one of many millions left without a will and no direct descendants. As a result thousands of claims have come in from all over the world from relatives, particularly those of the Schaeffer family. Some claims have gone in from New Castle.

If the idea put forth were enacted into law all estates left without will would be inherited to the state where no relatives closer than a first cousin made claim.

High School Credit For Evening Classes For Ex-Serviceman

High school credits are being given for work completed in the evening classes for veterans now being given at the Senior High School as well as for the regular classes which veterans may attend. School Superintendent Frank L. Burton explained today.

Special evening classes in commercial subjects and clothing construction do not give high school credit, but are arranged for the benefit of persons interested in learning these particular subjects.

NEIGHBORS MEET IN PUERTO RICO

Another overseas meeting of old friends occurred at San Juan, Puerto Rico, when Harold Bueemann, ship's cook 3-c, and Staff Sgt. T. H. Brown, Jr., both of whom live in Pheasant avenue.

Harold Bueemann, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bueemann, is now home on a 30 day leave. The boys have been neighbors for over 14 years.

Ask Snyder To Make Known Steel
Boost Proposed
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—(INS)—Reconversion Director John W. Snyder today was asked by the Tri-State Industrial association to make known the exact amount of the proposed steel price increase.

In a telegram to Snyder, the association's president, James S. Ervin, said the information on the steel price is needed immediately because many of the small fabricating plants have received offers from the CIO United Steelworkers to start individual negotiations.

The telegram pointed out that the amount of increase is a major factor, not only in determining how much the steel-using companies will be able to increase wages, but also in deciding whether it might be necessary to close down permanently, or close certain departments, if increased steel prices force them to operate at a loss.
